The following document provides information about changes to the eligibility process for HIV services effective January 1, 2014. Clients will be screened at only one location for eligibility. The questions and answers below are provided based on information known as of April 15, 2014.

3. What is the difference between eligibility for a service and qualifying for a service?

- Eligibility for the Ryan White program is based on Health Resources Services Administration (HRSA)² requirements. It includes that a person must have proof of HIV status, proof of Orange County residency, and proof that the client has no other way to receive the service (for example, proof of no health insurance).
- Qualifying for a Ryan White service is based on HRSA eligibility and Planning Council determined requirements (for example, proof of disability for Food Bank, income less than 300% of Federal Poverty Level for Mental Health Services).
- You may be eligible for the Ryan White program, but not qualify for some Ryan White services.

¹ This service may require a separate eligibility screening.

4. How will I know if I am eligible and qualify for a service?

Once you have completed eligibility, your case manager or service provider can help determine the services you are qualified to receive. Some services require additional information to qualify for the service (for example, proof of disability, homebound status). The case manager or service provider, not the eligibility worker, will request any additional required information to qualify for a service.

5. Why is the eligibility screening process changing?

There are lots of reasons to change the process. Below are some reasons for this change:

- To decrease the number of times and/or locations a client must be screened for Ryan White services.
- To make sure everyone is screened using the same process.
- To prepare for the implementation of a self-certification process for eligibility.
- To make sure eligibility screening is done based on HRSA³ requirements.
- To make sure clients are screened for other programs the client might be eligible for (for example, AIDS Drug Assistance Program (ADAP), Medi-Cal, Covered California and OA-HIPP).
- To reduce the eligibility work currently done by case managers. This will allow case managers more time to assist with client's needs.

6. Where will I go to be screened for eligibility?

Clients must be screened at 17th Street Care for Ryan White services. However, clients from ASF and Shanti who do not receive medical care at 17th Street Care or are not on ADAP can continue to be screened at those locations.

7. What documents do I need to bring to my eligibility appointment?

- Documents for eligibility need to prove HIV status (Proof of HIV is only required for new patients at intake. Proof will be verified at first 17th Street Care medical visit.), residency, income, and health insurance or lack of health insurance.
- ADAP Medi-Cal and Covered California screening may require additional documents to determine eligibility for those programs.
- See the "Required Eligibility and Program Overview document" for information on acceptable documents that support proof of eligibility.

8. What is the process for eligibility screening?

The process usually includes:

- A 1-2 hour appointment with the eligibility worker;
- Eligibility documents are reviewed (see Required Eligibility and Program Overview), if any documents are missing, you will be given a “pending documents” form;
- If needed, an application for ADAP, or Medi-Cal are submitted;
- Additional information may be requested from ADAP, or Medi-Cal to complete eligibility;
- A release of information is completed to share information with other service providers; and
- Eligibility for services is entered into ARIES (the Ryan White services database).

9. How often must I be screened for eligibility?

- HRSA requires eligibility screening every six months or sooner if something happens that would change a client’s eligibility for services (for example, change in residence, change in income, change in health insurance).
- Annually, a person must be screened in person for eligibility. Reassessment may be completed using a client self-attestation form.

10. If I was already screened in 2013-2014 at a provider location (for example APAIT, Delhi, REACH) do I have to be screened at 17th Street Care?

Yes. However, clients from ASF and Shanti who do not receive medical care at 17th Street Care or are not on ADAP will continue to be screened at those locations and will not have to be screened at 17th Street Care.

11. What happens if I miss my eligibility appointment?

Call (714) 834-7991 to make a new appointment. A new appointment may be scheduled within two – three weeks. Failure to complete eligibility will lead to services being stopped.

12. What happens if I do not complete eligibility?

Failure to complete eligibility will lead to services being stopped. However, once eligibility is completed services can be provided.
